3.2 Global Supplier Code of Conduct ("GSCC")

3.2.1 Summary

The GSCC is a key pillar of PPG's Supplier Sustainability Policy (for which see Section 6 below). The GSCC imposes minimum compliance standards with respect to business integrity, labour practices, associated health and safety, and environmental management. It is intended to complement the GCOE. The GSCC covers a wide range of standards but those specific to this annual statement are set out in the table below.

Health and safety

Suppliers must:

- Provide safe and healthy working conditions
- Proactively manage health and safety risks with the goal of providing an incident-free environment where occupational injuries and illnesses are prevented
- Implement management systems and controls that identify hazards and assess and control risk related to the specific industry

Freedom of association

Suppliers must:

- Respect employees' right to freedom of association and collective bargaining, consistent with local laws
- Respect employees' rights to join or refrain from joining associations and worker organisations

Wages, hours and benefits

Suppliers must:

The CSDT investigate any suspected violations of the GSCC by a supplier and stipulate any appropriate actions that the supplier must take to remedy the breach. These will range from allowing the supplier to rectify the violation by corrective and preventative action to termination of applicable contracts and reporting the violation to the proper authorities (in cases where the supplier is involved in slavery and human trafficking).

4. Procedure for on-boarding a new supplier; Annual Supplier Ratings & Audits

4.1 Procedure for on-boarding a new supplier

The process of on-boarding a new supplier currently has two stages:

4.1.1 the supplier must sign up to the GSCC;

4.1.2 PPG Group's Procurement function ("PPG Procurement") follows a supplier qualification checklist and completes a series of forms (including a New Supplier Qualification Form) as a result of which the supplier's credentials are assessed and vetted.

In 2017, the New Supplier Qualification Form was updated to include questions on child and forced labour; human rights violations; safety in work place violations; conflict mineral violations; supplier diversity.

In 2018 we identified a need to carry out a review of our on-boarding process for new suppliers to enable us to gather information on a number of priority areas, including modern slavery, as quickly as possible when engaging with a new supplier. The outcome of our review has led to the development of a new phased process for supplier on-boarding which was tested by PPG Procurement in a pilot scheme with several Tier 1 raw material suppliers to PPG Group's automotive business during 2019. The new process includes additional information being provided to suppliers at each stage, to ensure that they are properly informed about requirements under relevant legislation, including the MSA. We can confirm that PPG Procurement have completed that testing and the feedback indicates that our process gives new suppliers sufficient background context and information regarding MSA and its importance to PPG.

4.2 Annual Supplier Ratings

At the end of each financial year, PPG Group's most significant raw material and packaging suppliers located in EMEA (based on factors such as spend, sole supplier status etc) undergo a ratings assessment. The ratings is shared with the supplier and an action plan devised as necessary. The ratings are also used to determine which suppliers are to be the subject of an annual supplier audit. We have referred to this activity in our three previous MSA statements. In each of those statements we can confirm that the scope of this activity has been limited in scope to only EMEA-based raw material and packaging suppliers.

4.3 Responsibility

PPG Procurement are responsible for the processes and procedures for on-boarding new suppliers.

5. Reporting policies

5.1 PPG Group's employees

Employees are required to report all suspected violations of the GCOE, or the law to PPG's Ethics and Compliance Office. Several reporting options are offered including the PPG Ethics Helpline which is a confidential free phone and online reporting service maintained by a third party. Any retaliation – whether direct or indirect – against any employee who raises a good faith concern is grounds for discipline up to and including dismissal.

5.2 PPG Group's suppliers

Under the GSCC, suppliers are required to report suspected violations of the GSCC to the Vice President, Procurement, PPG's Ethics Helpline or PPG's Chief Compliance Officer immediately if a violation of the GSCC is ever in question. In the event that a supplier recognizes any non-compliant activity or violation of the GSCC, the supplier must provide a detailed corrective action plan to address such deficiency.

6. PPG's Supplier Sustainability Policy

PPG's commitment to human rights and eradicating slavery from its supply chain is closely aligned with its commitment and activities to make PPG Group's businesses more sustainable in terms of its compliance with applicable laws and adherence to internationally recognised environmental, social and corporate governance standards. In particular, PPG has committed to achieving five key Sustainability Goals by 2020. PPG acknowledges that its success in achieving these Goals will be dependent upon the full support of its global supplier base for which PPG's Global Sustainability Committee has issued its Supplier Sustainability Policy SUPPLIER SUSTAINABILITY - PPG - Paints, Coatings and Materials.

7. Training

All allocated employees are required to complete a GCOE annual online refresher training course which is accompanied by a test which they must pass in order to complete the training.

In 2019, all allocated employees completed a modern slavery focused e-learning training course (see further details in paragraph 9.4 below).

8. Mica

PPG Architectural Coatings UK Limited has assessed that as at 31st December 2019, none of the formulas for its architectural paints included natural mica. However, please click on this link and see Section 8 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 statement published by PPG Industries (UK) Limited for details of PPG's initiatives in this area: MSA Statement for PPG Industries \(UK\) Limited.

9. Initiatives

9.1 In paragraph 9.1 of our third MSA statement we confirmed our commitment to supplier audits but, for the reasons given in that statement, the timelines for these needed to be re-assessed. In particular we had stated that, until the work to be conducted by the Responsible Mica Initiative group had been completed, the audit for suppliers which mine mica would be postponed. As mentioned in our first MSA statement, there is a portion of PPG Group's suppliers whose pigments incorporate mica which is extracted from mines located in India. This still remains the case and, to clarify, PPG Group does not itself source any mica directly from Indian mines. Hence, PPG Procurement's future audits in this area will be limited to those of its pigment suppliers whose products contain Indian mica. However, such audits remain out of scope pending further progress by the Responsible Mica Initiative group.

9.2 Also with reference to paragraph 9.1 of our third MSA statement, we can confirm that the mapping of our Tier 1 suppliers for raw materials, packaging, goods for resale and spare parts, was limited to PPG Procurement's assembly of a list by category and product. Given that the resultant list was extensive, PPG Procurement have focused their risk analysis to date on its raw material suppliers taking into account the level of automation involved in the process and the qualification requirements of employees. Based solely on these criteria, PPG Procurement has identified that (save for only a few exceptions) its raw material suppliers have highly automated production processes requiring qualified employees indicating a low risk of modern slavery. However, in 2020, PPG Procurement will revisit the list of raw materials and their suppliers:

9.2.1 to add additional data fields including each supplier's manufacturing location;

9.2.2 to extend the scope to raw materials and suppliers of PPG Group as a whole;

9.2.3 to commence to identify the key constituent elements that go to form each raw material. Once such elements are identified, PPG Procurement will assess if these are high risk depending on the element in question and the location from which it is sourced.

9.3 With reference to paragraph 9.2 of our third MSA statement, in October 2019, our global PPG Sustainability Questionnaire for Suppliers was extended to an additional 150 suppliers which account for 80% of spend on raw materials by PPG Group in EMEA. The questionnaire enables PPG Procurement to assess (amongst other issues) the risk of modern slavery through a range of questions eg requesting the supplier to identify and provide copies of any policies it has relating to the respecting of human rights, child labour and forced or compulsory labour. In 2020, PPG Procurement will analyse the results of the replies from these additional 150 suppliers. In addition, PPG Procurement will continue to work with a number of the suppliers surveyed in order to ensure they understand the terminology used.

9.4 In paragraph 9.5 of our third MSA statement we had identified an aim to roll out modern slavery focused e-learning to those of its permanent employees ranked from the most senior management to middle management/mid-grade specialists with assigned email addresses. We can confirm that this training was implemented and completed by all relevant employees in 2019.

9.5 In 2018 PPG Architectural Coatings UK Limited with the assistance of specialist legal advisers, have reviewed their standard terms and conditions to assess the extent to which they mitigate the risks of modern slavery occurring their supply chains. The relevant draft clauses have been prepared and are being used on a case by case basis pending the commencement of a project to overhaul our contractual terms.

Ongoing compliance with its obligations under the MSA remains on the agenda of the PPG Architectural Coatings UK Limited board of directors.

This statement has been approved by the board of directors of PPG Architectural Coatings UK Limited.
